PRERANA

The Monthly News Letter of Bhavans Al Saad Indian School

The month of November saw a spate of activities. The activities came to an end with a grand UAE National Day celebration. A lot of honest sweat was shed in spite of chilly winter. The tired muscles needed some rest to come back rejuvenated for the bout of December. Once again everyone was back to School on 6th December with renewed vigor and head start for the Christmas epoch.

Another successful trophy won by the March Past Team of ASIS

It was a day when the Al Ain Community came together through sports. Blue Star Al Ain, conducted the 18th Edition of the most widely attended family sports festival on the 11th December, 2015 at the University Stadium, Al Ain. Olympian Bobby Aloysius was the chief guest of the day.

The day long sporting event commenced with March Past with various schools, clubs and participating teams of Al Ain. Our students and teachers did us proud by bagging the trophy for one of the best marching teams for the 2nd consecutive year.

In addition to this our students participating in several track and field events and qualified for the finals, the teachers of Al Saad Indian School showed their mettle by qualifying into the Throw Ball Women's Semi - Finals. True to the Slogan of the Blue star Family Sporting fest - "Better life through better sports", it was indeed an enriching, exciting and energetic event for all of us.

Open house on December 12th Saturday

16th December was the day of decorating the House Board . The theme was CHRISTMAS

On 16th of December the school celebrated the Birth day of our teachers Ms. Siva Priya , Ms. Beena, Ms. Jennifer, Ms.Bijila, Ms. Vandana, Ms. Priyanka and Mr. Harikrishnan

The School witnessed Christmas Celebrations on 17th December. Children ushered in the spirit of Christmas with 'Jingle Bells Rock, A tableaux was presented depicting the birth of Jesus Christ, the 'Three Wise Men' bearing gifts and finally the drummer boy. We had Santa Clause coming from each house who marked their presence by giving gifts to all the children . It was a day of fun and frolic for the kids.

January 2016 - A promising year with a few resolutions.

After the spring holidays the school reopened on 10th January with a special assembly by the grade 2 children on the theme of New Year aspirations. The special attraction was the Santa of good hopes who came with a kitty of ambitious wishes for all teachers pertaining to their students. Our Demetrius of Grade 2 was the Santa clause who carried his bag of wishes to distribute to everyone with a sweet bite. It was indeed a honeyed beginning to welcome the New Year at Al Saad Indian School..

BOOK WEEK

The first promise of the New Year for the students of Al Saad Indian School was to fall in love with books and get into the habit of reading. The school believes in the ideology “some books are to be chewed while others to be swallowed”. Imbibing this spirit the teachers made their children delve into a gamut of activities as a part of book week celebration. The 1st day of the book week was marked with “DEAR TIME”, where every child was asked to read something of their choice and pen down the read material in written expressions.

Next day a slot was given to children to create a reading corner in their respective class rooms. There was much enthusiasm in children to come out with the best and bag the prize for their construing curve, while the coordinators went around inspecting and grading the performance of each class. The successful culmination of book week on 13th January saw students pitching in their arguments for Debate "Technology/ Book. The guest of the day Ms. Preetha Menon, a book lover and an avid reader wielding her efficiency as a public health professional was quite impressed with the expostulation from either of the debating parties. In her eloquent message she urged the students to strike a balance between Books and technology but definitely going into the fathom of wonderful world of Books.

At the end of the programme prizes were awarded to the students for the best “My book report” from each grade, accolades were also given for the best reading corner, the first runner up and the second runner up which was bagged by grade 2, grade 5 and grade 3 respectively.

The best team and the best speakers for debate were also pronounced by the chief guest of the day.

A sweet smell of Patriotic whiff was felt in the breeze of Al Saad Indian School. The school started getting ready for a major show for the Republic day. The show stopper being the Republic day parade rigorously being practised by our P.T master Mr. Vinod, a long timer NCC cadet. Many other events like patriotic songs, patriotic dance and Declamation were all getting ready to steal the show.

The Republic day parade received a grand salute by Mr. Sooraj Ramchandran our beloved Director, who was also the esteemed chief guest of the day. His articulacy brought out the unrelenting importance of national festivals like Independence Day and Republic day celebrations at School forums. Our Principal Ma'am also spoke on how rights and duties complement each other. She linked it to the working of a school in a lucid manner for children to understand the framework of Constitution.

The month of January had a chunk of soul reviving programmes for the children and teachers alike to set the pace for the academic year 2016 - 2017.

The School awaits a colorful February with The mega show stopper for the year - The annual day Celebration. Readers hold your breath for an eventful month to roll on, and catch the indelible glimpses of Al Saad Indian School's momentous annual day were all Bhavanites will be in the Limelight.
